Contact Name and Details	The Revd Dr Andrew Lunn admin@mandsmethodists.org.uk
Resolutions	29/1. The Council receives the report. 29/2. The Council appoints a Trustee body for the A S Peake Memorial Trust as set out in paragraph 3.3.

1 Introduction

- 1.1 Arthur Samuel Peake (1865–1929) was a Methodist biblical scholar, who brought the principles of modern biblical scholarship into more general public and popular awareness, approaching the Bible as the record of revelation as written by human beings.
- 1.2 After lecturing at Mansfield College, Oxford from 1890 to 1892, he was invited to become tutor at the Primitive Methodist Theological Institute in Manchester (Hartley College from 1906). His influence led to a broader curriculum and higher standards of training for Primitive Methodist student ministers. He also lectured at the United Methodist College in Manchester.
- 1.3 In 1904 he was appointed as the first Professor of Biblical Criticism and Exegesis in the University of Manchester, a post which was renamed as the Rylands Professor in 1909, and he was the first non-Anglican to be a professor of divinity in an English university. Peake was active in working towards Methodist reunion, although that did not happen until three years after his death. One contribution for which he is particularly remembered is his one-volume commentary on the Bible (1919).
- 1.4 The Peake Trust was originally set up to be administered by staff and ex-students of Hartley College, later Hartley Victoria College. With the closure of Hartley Victoria College, the trustees were reduced in number to one, namely the Revd Philip Barnett who is seeking to set aside his responsibilities.
- 1.5 On 31 August 2020 the Trust amounted to £6,056.18, held in the Central Finance Board.

2 The Future of the Trust

- 2.1 Given Peake's connection with Manchester, Mr Barnett approached the Revd Dr Andrew Lunn, Chair of the Manchester and Stockport District, with a view to appointing new trustees to manage the trust. A small group therefore met with a view to discussing the potential for continuing the work of the trust as the basis for an annual event connecting academic biblical scholarship with the life of the Church.
- 2.2 The continuation of the Trust will achieve the following ends:
 - Acts as a reminder of the significant contribution of A S Peake to the life of Methodist Churches.
 - Contribute to further ministerial and local preacher development in the North-West of England.
 - Strengthen connections between biblical theology within higher education in Manchester and regional churches.

- 2.3 Those who met to consider this were:
- The Revd Dr Adrian Burdon, Superintendent of Shaw & Royton and Oldham & Saddleworth Circuits.
 - Mr Peter Freeman, lay worker and local preacher in the Alderley Edge & Knutsford circuit, and a trustee of Firefest.
 - The Revd Dr Andrew Lunn, Chair of Manchester & Stockport District.
 - Prof Peter Oates, Lightfoot Professor of Biblical Studies at Manchester University.
 - The Revd Dr Simon Sutcliffe, Training Officer in the Connexional Team for North-West & Mann region.
 - The Revd Dr Caroline Wickens, Superintendent of Manchester Circuit.

3 Proposals

- 3.1 As a result the group brings the following proposals to the Methodist Council:
- 3.2 The Regulations of the Trust shall be altered to the version given in Appendix 1 below (the version to be replaced shown in Appendix 2).
- 3.3 The Methodist Council appoints a new Trustee body, with consideration of the following nominations (reasoned statements in Appendix 3):
- Dr Adrian Curtis
 - Mr Peter Freeman
 - The Revd Dr Svetlana Khobnya
 - The Revd Dr Andrew Lunn
 - Prof Peter Oakes
 - The Revd Dr Simon Sutcliffe
 - The Revd Dr Caroline Wickens
 - The Revd Graham Sparkes will be an observer, with the intention of rotating every three years between a trustee from Nazarene Theological College and a Trustee from Luther King Centre.
